Add to Clyde Line Service to Florida

To meet an earlier demand for Florida accommodations than is usual at this season, the Clyde Steamship Company announces that commencing today, the steamer George Washington will sail every Saturday for Miami.

Beginning Wednesday, November 17, her sister ship, the Robert E. Lee, will sail every Wednesday until further notice, making two direct express steamers weekly from New York to Miami. Sailings will be from Pier 45, North River, at 2 p. m. instead of noon as formerly.

In addition to these there are three sailings weekly to Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla., making five sailings each week of Clyde Line steamers for Florida and the Carolinas.

Havana Recoups From Disaster

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—Man's happy faculty for overcoming the worst disasters of nature is evidenced here by the courageous spirit of the city's workers, who, refusing to be crushed by the recent hurricane, have turned with a vim to the work of repairing the damage.

Swift progress is noticeable everywhere in the repair of structures wrecked in the recent catastrophe and by the time the great army of American tourists comes down here for the winter months there will be few outward signs left of the storm.

Many families are still homeless and in need of clothing and food, but the reconstruction work is providing employment for the male folks and helping their dependents overcome their difficulties.

Bronx Hospital Work Under Way

At a meeting of the building ways and means committee of Bronx Hospital, 169th Street and Fulton Avenue, the chairman reported that work on the new eight-story structure was under way and rapid progress is being made. The steel work, it is expected, will be completed by January 1. The hospital with its equipment will cost about $1,600,000.

With the completion of the new structure the present buildings will be remodeled and converted into a maternity unit.

Vare Denies Fraud In Winning Seat

ST. LUCIE, FLA., Nov. 6.—William S. Vare, Republican senator-elect from Pennsylvania, denied the statement made by Senator Norris of Nebraska that, although technically elected, Mr. Vare had been repudiated by the honest, patriotic people of the state and that his election had been brought about by "fraudulent manipulation."

William S. Vare

"There is no ground for the charges," Mr. Vare said emphatically, "as not one member of Gov. Pinchot's Registration Commission or any other person has come forward since the primary election in May and challenged a single one of my votes."

Senator-elect Vare characterized Senator Norris as a Western Republican working with Western Democrats instead of giving his own party proper support.

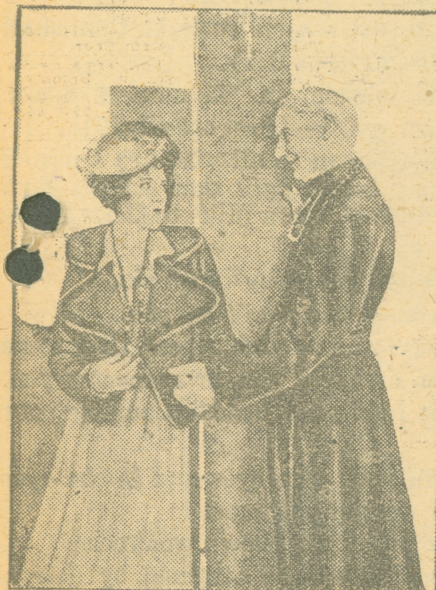

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (By U. P.).—Postal receipts in fifty selected cities during October were $32,680,349, an increase of $371,307, as compared with October, 1925. Postmaster General New announced.

THE COUNTRY BEYOND

Posed by Ralph Graves, Olive Borden and a Splendid Cast

By James Oliver Curwood

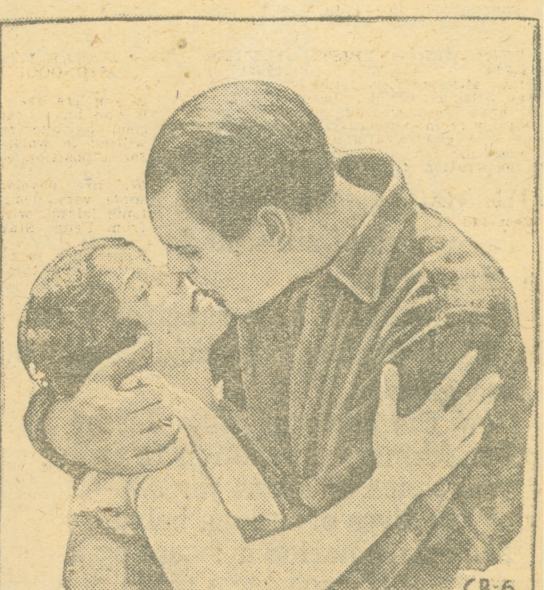

Even Father John keeps the real reason for Roger's absence from Valencia, believing that McKay will spend the rest of his life in jail. The kindly priest offers no objection, under the circumstances, when Harlan suggests Valencia go to New York with him and enter one of his shows. Valencia, proceeding to New York, is immediately assigned to a part in a big revue.

Plunging into her work in an effort to keep from thinking of Roger, who she is confident is true to her, Valencia speedily becomes an accomplished dancer. Weeks pass, and, unknown to Harlan or his sweetheart, Roger is exonerated from the charges against him, due to a confession of Martha Leseur, and arrives in New York, where from a box he sees Valencia as she leads one of the exotic numbers on the stage.

Once Harlan has overcome Valencia's original antipathy toward him, he pays audent but unwelcome court to the girl. The night of Roger's visit to the theater Harlan suddenly seizes the frightened girl in his arms and endeavors to kiss her. Roger, entering the room, sees her struggling in Harlan's arms

Enraged, Roger tears the man from Valencia and fells him with one blow. The sobbing girl in his arms, McKay explains his arrest, and Valencia, disgusted with Harlan, whose true nature she has just found out, wearied of the beautiful clothes and atmosphere with which the promoter had lured her to the metropolis, begs McKay to take her back with him to her home in the Northwest. (The end.)
